

It has been more than three months since I worked as project manager for the Alkozia limited Company in the Kabul city security camera project. I am in charge of managing the project. Besides that, I am responsible for organizing tasks, making plans, controlling, monitoring and reporting the project. Checking whether the work team is working on plan and tasks are going on schedule is also my mission.