ESSAY - 2 : I felt like it was the biggest failure of my life at that time. It is a matter of just 7 year ago, when I had to appear in my 12th board examination. When my board exams were about to start in next 20 days, I suffered from chicken pox. Due to it, I was not allowed to stay in hostel, so I went to the home. As per the doctor's prescription I had to be in completely rest for fifteen days. After getting proper cure, I returned back to my hostel. There were only three days remaining for my board exam to start. My teachers advised me to drop the exam and should appear next year, as I had insufficient time for preparations. But I appeared in exams with the strong feeling of getting good grades. After my board, I went to Kathmandu for preparation of engineering competition exam. I prepared list of college in which I was willing to study. I appeared in the competitive exam and I cracked it. Everything was according to my plan, I was about to get admission in my desired college. Only I was waiting for my board result. Finally my result came out, which shocked me. I got average score which were inadequate for admission in desired college. It was my life's biggest failure. I got totally depressed. My parents also got upset with my result. But they supported me to overcome from my situation. I lost my one year as admissions were closed of all the colleges. I took it as a challenge that in coming session "I will get admission, and will put all my effort on my study so that I can get good grade in my engineering". I planned to utilize one year time span on the thing I was interested. I started studying articles on personnel Psychology as well as I got assistance from one of my relative who was doing research works in the same field. After studying human behavior articles, I got idea of aggressiveness, anxiety and depression behavior problem in human being and also how to manage it. It enriched my life in different manner, and also helped me in overcoming from depression. Finally the day came when I got admission in the Engineering. I put all efforts in my study, and as a result I passed with good grades throughout engineering. I got job just after my degree which enriched me with practical knowledge. From all my past experience, I learnt one thing once you get failed doesn't mean you're going to fail every time. So we should keep trying our best with full faith over us. One day our efforts will turn into fruitful result and will get successful in life.
