Areas of Interest

Greatly interested in the dynamics of Indian Foreign Policy, especially with it's South Asian neighbours. I have written a research paper focusing on the political geography behind India-Nepal border dispute.

Additionally, I am also interested on how India can utilise its soft power to gain the trust and confidence of its neighbours and establish its credentials. I have published a paper on the same.

Another area of keen interest is the phenomena of radicalization in the current age of globalisation- how to deal with it and how the current strategic approaches employed are inherently faulty. I have published a research paper concerning this topic.

I am deeply interested in researching about the condition of South Asian Womanhood. I have done extensive studies on the same and have written 6 articles on the said topic.
