12. Essey:

Since my very childhood, I have been finding out great pleasure to make something understandable to anyone. I have born and raised in a very trivial village which is located on countryside of our country. As a student from such a place it seems to be very tough to achieve proper education. But I was very lucky to have some brilliant teachers in my village. Basically, that temptation of teaching got inspired by them. I used to follow their approaches and did implement to my friends who were underprivileged that time. At my secondary level of education, I used to do ample amount of tuition. Those moments were really enthusiastic to me. When someone understands a complex thing, a glimpse of pleasure reflects on their face. It is very glad to watch. Moreover, if I am responsible for this precious thing then it turns out to be a remarkable event for me. I used to provide my notes and books to my insolvent friends. In my way of thinking, I believe everybody should share their knowledge as knowledge is light and divine. I started to think teaching would be my perfect occupation. But in our country people think to be a doctor, to be an engineer, to be a corporate are the lucrative professions. Eventually to keep pace with the society I got admitted into an Engineering university which is one of the great universities in our country. From very first year I found a lot of interest in Electrical Engineering. I helped my friends to teach them or assist them in lab as well. Besides my education life I ran a coaching center for science background students. I always try to be more innovative and creative during my teaching. I get full job satisfaction in teaching profession. I assisted my supervisor in many projects in our university's lab. After completing my undergrad, I started doing job in a very famous communication company in our country. But the job was too much monotonous. Then I decided to leave the job and I quit from it. Then I got into a different job in steel company as an Electrical Engineer but I found lack of variation there. I left that too. I think no profession is more colorful as the way a teacher can. Now I have fixed myself to take higher education. I really want to do something for my country in this education field. I love teaching. I believe teachers are the real backbones of any nation. This seems to be an inner talent of mine. Without it, I think my resume would have been partial.
