To: Whomever it may concern

I am glad to write a Letter of Recommendation for Mr Bhrigu Chakraborty concerning his application for the joint doctoral program in Chemistry at IIT Kharagpur and the University of Manchester. I have known him for 1.5 years since he joined IIT Kharagpur as a MSc student.

He attended the course 'Introduction to Computational Chemistry' and has acquired an 'A' grade, despite being an entirely novel topic and during an intense 1st semester. He has been regular and attentive in the classes. He also emerged as an intelligent and sincere student during the tenure of my teaching. In my view, he is also highly motivated, which is an essential trait to pursue doctoral studies.

He has also excelled in other Physical chemistry courses, as his transcript reflects. If he is selected as a doctoral student in the program mentioned above, it will open new opportunities for him, and he is going to excel at his research with the exposure that he will get. I am convinced that Mr Bhrigu Chakraborty will turn out to be an asset for the graduate program.

If you have any further questions regarding his academic background, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

anoop
